TITOLI (ROHTAK), AUGUST 23
A day after the arrest of a Muslim youth and his accomplice on charges of killing the calf of a cow, an uneasy calm prevailed at Titoli village in the district on Thursday. No untoward incident was reported from the village in the wake of Wednesday's incident.

Rohtak SDM Rakesh Kumar, who was camping at the village along with DSP Narayan Chand and other police and administrative officials, asserted that the situation was normal and peaceful.

"We are coordinating with prominent residents of the village to maintain normalcy and social harmony. Two companies of the police force have been deployed at the village as a precautionary measure," he stated.

Rajbir, a leader of the Muslim community at the village, and village nambardar Suresh, said members of the Hindu and Muslim communities had been living at the village peacefully and harmoniously for several decades.

"Yesterday's incident was unfortunate and unintentional, and it got flared up as it coincided with the Eid festival. We will make all-out efforts to restore the communal harmony at the village," they maintained.

Suresh pointed out that a man named Maman, who had allegedly sown the seeds of discord among the village residents, had fled the village after the incident.

Rajbir's brother Surender stated that several members of the Muslim commuand has taken shelter at the home of his elder brother Mahender Singh (Khan), a former Army official.

Sadiq stated that his wife had returned to the village and he would also return within a day or so if the situation continued to be normal and peaceful.

Former Subedar Major Mahender of Titoli, who now lives at Peer Colony in Rohtak, said the police-administration had taken swift action and were coordinating with the local residents to maintain peace and law and order.

"The government is also doing well on its part, but it has failed to control radical outfits like the RSS, Shiv Sena and Bajrang Dal," he lamented.

Sadiq, who works as a farm labourer at Titoli, had fled the village along with his wife and two children

Sewage plant fined for damage to environment

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

GURUGRAM, AUGUST 23
The National Green Tribunal has imposed an interim fine of Rs 2.5 lakh on the project proponent of Bandhwari sewage treatment plant in the district for damaging the environment.

A Bench headed by NGT Chairperson Justice Adarsh Kumar Goel noted that there was no substantial compliance by the project proponent in managing waste and said mere statement that compliance would be done in future was not enough.

"Ecogreen Energy Gurgaon Faridabad Pvt Ltd is directed to pay interim compensation of Rs 2.5 lakh for damage to the environment under Section 15(2) of the National Green Tribunal Act, 2010. The amount may be deposited with the State Pollution Control Board (SPCB). The above amount may have to be increased if any violation continues. We direct the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) and the SPCB to conduct an inspection within four weeks," said the Bench. The tribunal posted the matter for consideration of the compliance affidavit and report of the CPCB and the SPCB on February 6 next year.

Govt to set up 900 custom hiring centres across state, says Likhi

Crop residue management tops agenda, says Principal Secretary

OUR CORRESPONDENT

KAITHAL, AUGUST 23
Dr Abhilaksh Likhi, Principal Secretary, Agriculture and Farmers Welfare, on Thursday said to promote crop residue management and control increasing pollution, the Haryana Government aimed at opening 900 custom hiring centres in the state.

He said the government was providing 80 per cent subsidy on crop residue management agricultural implements to farmers' groups and 50 per cent subsidy on individual purchase of such implements.

Dr Likhi was inspecting custom hiring centres set up by farmer Gulab Singh under the name of Saagwal Agriculture Society in Kaul village and by farmer Rajbir under the name of Mahadev Agriculture Society in Sakra village of the district.

He directed the department officials to ensure display of rate lists of hiring charges of machinery and names of farmers availing the facility of hiring at these centres.

He said that action would be taken against centre owners if any case of excessive charging from farmers came to the notice of department officials.

He said the Central and state governments had made available funds to the tune of Rs 173 crore for crop management residue and massive awakening campaign had been launched.

He said crop residue management topped the state government's agenda and as per pollution control commission's directive, the linking of super straw management system with combined harvesters by farmers had been made mandatory.

He said the purpose was to ensure that crop residue was cut into small pieces and the next crop sown without burning residue. He said each hiring centre would cover 1,200 acres and 1.65 lakh acres would be covered in Kaithal district. He said the target was to open 112 centres in Kaithal district, 108 of which had been set up.

Ex-CMHooda's 'Krant Yatra' from Sept 9

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

KURUKSHETRA, AUGUST 23
Deependar Singh Hooda, Congress MP from Rohtak, on Thursday said former Chief Minister BS Hooda will undertake 'Jankranti Yatra' from Pehowa on September 9.

At a workers' meeting here, the MP said residents were against the 'anti-people' policies of the BJP and the party would be thrown out of power in the next elections.

He said the Congress was confident that the next government would be formed under the leadership of two-time CM BS Hooda.

Class XI girl ends her life; youth booked

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

PANIPAT, AUGUST 23
A 16-year-old girl allegedly committed suicide by hanging herself at her house in the Hari Singh colony here after being reportedly harassed by a youth living in the same colony.

The police booked the youth for allegedly abetting the girl to take the extreme step.

The deceased was identified as Kanchan. She was a student of Class XI in a private school here.

The parents of the victim saw her body hanging in her room.

Sushma Rani, mother of the girl, in her complaint to the Quilla police, alleged that her daughter had told her about two months ago that the youth named Ashish of the same colony used to harass her while she was on her way to school.

I had approached the youth at his home and told him not to harass my daughter, but in vain, she said. We had also called him to our home around 20 days ago and requested him not to tease the girl, for which he also felt sorry and assured us that he would not do any such activity, she added.

But he caught the hand of my daughter on the road five days ago, making my daughter feel harassed, and leading her to end her life.

A case has been registered against Ashish under Section 306 of the IPC on her complaint, said SI Surender Kumar, SHO Quilla. The accused would be arrested soon, he said.

FIR lodged in infant's death

OUR CORRESPONDENT

SONEPAT, AUGUST 23
The police have registered a case against unidentified persons following the death on an infant at the PGIMS, Rohtak, on Tuesday.

In his complaint to the police, the victim's father Jitender Paswan of Kundli stated that his wife Sweety gave birth to a pre-mature child in a private hospital at Kundli on Tuesday.

As the newborn was seriously ill, the child was referred to the Civil Hospital in Sonapat. The ambulance carrying the child got stuck in traffic jam for about half an hour on the National Highway-1 due to the cycle rally of the Congress party.

Doctors at the Civil Hospital referred the child to the PGIMS, Rohtak, where the doctors declared the child as brought dead. He alleged that the condition of the child deteriorated during the traffic jam.

Additional SP Rajiv Deswal said that a case under Section 304A of IPC and the Motor Vehicles Act had been registered at Kundli police station against unidentified persons.

Refuting the allegations, state Congress president Ashok Tanwar, who is on a four-day cycle yatra in the district, said that the ambulance was immediately given way. Tanwar said that the death of the child was due to premature delivery.

On the other hand, Sweety was brought to the Community Health Centre (CHC) at Badhkhalas after her condition deteriorated in the evening. After giving preliminary treatment, she was referred to the Civil Hospital at Sonapat where her condition was stated to be stable.

Dr Chetan, SMO at the CHC, said that the patient had not taken any food for the last two days after the death of her newborn baby.
